ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A data base for permanent data has a first memory from which date is written into a buffer.   Data is transferred from the buffer store into at least two permanent memories.